Political Fund Reforms Requested

By WALTER R. MEARS

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has renewed a call for political fund-raising reforms urged upon Congress four years ago by President John F. Kennedy.

The subject is one Johnson had not pressed since moving to the White House. After two years of silence on the matter, he welded the reform proposals into his State of the Union message.

"As the process of election becomes more complex and costly," he said, "we must make it possible for those without personal wealth to enter public life without being obligated to a few large contributors."

To do that, Johnson proposed a tax break for people who make political contributions.

Given today's fund-raising pattern, a tax break from the small donor could be a boon to Republicans. The GOP reports increasing success with small givers.

Democrats, on the other hand, have become more dependent on big contributions.

In the last presidential election,

Most Causes of Anxiety Date Back to Childhood

BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Whether anxiety is a new epidemic disease or is as old as the proverbial hills, it is the cause of a great deal of suffering.

The causes of anxiety extend, in most cases, back to our childhood. It may spring from an unstable home life, from competition between parents for the dependence and love of the child and from a failure of the parents to let the child become self-reliant and develop toward emotional maturity.

Emotions are just as contagious as measles. In a home where gloom and anxiety abound, these feelings will be transmitted to all members of the family. The children of neurotic parents will almost surely become the neurotic parents of a new generation.

Environmental factors that add to the burden of anxiety include the monotony of the jobs many persons must do (jobs that deprive the worker of pride in individual accomplishment), an increase in leisure time for persons with no constructive outlets for their energies, the complexities of modern technology that often give an individual a feeling of helplessness and insignificance, an overemphasis on financial success as the ultimate tion, the Democrats raised $1 million more from 1,000-and-up contributors than did the Republicans.

Johnson said he wants to broaden the participation of the people, and stimulate small contributions.

He coupled that proposal with a call for stern new laws to guarantee full disclosure of political money and its sources.

Past Congresses have shown little zest for this undertaking, even though present federal law requires reports on only a slender fraction of the contributions and costs involved in television elections.

Candidates for House and Senate are required to report their campaign spending — but some successful contenders have filed accountings which show no outlays at all.

Current law has been interpreted as requiring an accounting only of contributions and spending by the candidate himself. In fact, most campaign spending is handled by state or congressional district committees in behalf of the candidate.

That means campaign spending filed in Washington may show only a tiny slice of the actual expenses involved in a House or Senate race.

Johnson said he wants local and state campaign committees brought under the federal disclosure law.

At the same time, he promised legislation to change what he called unrealistic limits on contributions. There is a $3-million ceiling on fund raising and expenditures by a single, national political committee, and a $5,000 limit on the amount anyone can donate to a single candidate or political committee.

In practice, this has led to multiple committees and to contributions channeled through state and local organizations.

In the last presidential race, the Republicans raised and spent their money through nine separate campaign committees, the Democrats through 16.

mate criterion of a man's worth and the pressures of a rapidly expanding population with its resultant overcrowding. The cowboy who sings "Don't fence me in" may find himself surrounded by tall buildings sooner than he thinks.

Doctors now recognize an anxiety syndrome that is characterized by palpitation of the heart, rapid irregular breathing, sweating, a lump in the throat, a feeling of heaviness in the chest or stomach, muscular tremors, a feeling of generalized weakness and nervous tension with or without the so-called tension headaches. Chronic anxiety may be the cause of excessive shyness, perfectionism, such compulsive behavior as washing one's hands every 25 or 30 minutes, a wide variety of phobias such as acrophobia (fear of high places) and seeking escape from reality through narcotics or alcohol.

There can be no doubt that these symptoms recurring day after day can make you feel terrible and can, in time, result in organic changes that are sometimes described as "psychosomatic." In tomorrow's column the treatment of anxiety will be discussed.

Wedding Vows Are Repeated

Mrs. Kenneth Earl Grant

The wedding of Miss Sandra Gail Ivers and Kenneth Earl Grant was solemnized December 3 at 8 p.m. in the home of the brides parents.

The bride is the daughter of Eld. and Mrs. Raymond Ivers and the groom is the son of Mrs. Ora Grant and the late Eld. Norman Grant.

Vows were exchanged before an altar arranged with baskets of white gladioli and fern with two seven branch candelabras. Eld. Raymond Ivers officiated at the double ring ceremony. Music was provided by Mrs. Wayne Grant, sister-in-law of the groom.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a street length dress of white silk brocade. She wore a shoulder length veil attached to a crown of crystal and tiny pearls and carried a white bible topped with white carnations and white satin streamers. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the groom.

Mrs. Elmer Grant, sister-in-law of the groom, was the matron of honor. She wore a dress of light blue wool with a matching hat. Her flowers were white carnations.

Elmer Grant served his brother as best man and little Miss Judy Ivers, sister of the bride, was the candle lighter.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Ivers chose a dress of navy crepe and Mrs. Grant wore a dress of navy wool. Each had a corsage of pink carnations.

After the ceremony, a reception was held. The bride's table was covered with white nylon over pink with a centerpiece of pink roses and stock. The three tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, was served by Mrs. Wayne Grant. Mrs. Charlie Webb served the punch bowl and Miss Judy Ivers had charge of the bride's book.

After a short wedding trip the couple returned to Hope. Mrs. Grant is employed with W. Shanhouse & Sons and Mr. Grant is employed with Hope Eggland.

Playwright Is Doing Very Well

BRIGHTON, England (AP) — American playwright Arthur Miller is reported today to be "as well as can be expected" at Brighton General Hospital, where he was taken Tuesday night.

Hospital authorities said he is suffering from hepatitis and will be there for about two weeks. They said he was "very cheerful and had a good night's sleep."

Miller has been in Brighton for the pre-London run of his play "Incident at Vichy." He was taken ill just before returning to his Paris home. His wife was with him.

The term, megalomania, is applied to the urban eastern seaboard area extending from north of Boston to south of Washington, D.C.

Peace Talk Appears to Be Fading

WASHINGTON (AP) — The possibility of early negotiations to end the Vietnamese war appears to be fading rapidly as President Johnson's public peace offensive draws to a close without any favorable response from North Viet Nam.

Roving Ambassador W. Averell Harriman — the first of Johnson's peace emissaries to fly abroad and the last to come home — returned Wednesday night with Secretary of State Dean Rusk from the Far East.

Their arrival set the stage for top-level conferences on U.S. military and diplomatic strategy in the next phase of this struggle. These may be held next week. The central questions before President Johnson are whether to start bombing North Viet Nam targets again and whether to escalate the war in other respects.

Rusk and Harriman told newsmen upon their arrival at Andrews Air Force Base that nations around the world now understand the U.S. aim is to bring the war to a peaceful conclusion.

"I have the impression that the situation is much clearer to nations right around the world and the issues are there for all to see," Rusk said.

"Everyone now generally understands that the obstacle to peace in Southeast Asia is not the United States."

Harriman said governments in each capital "volunteered to do what they could in their own way with Moscow, Hanoi and Peking to achieve a peaceful solution."

"The decision is now up to Hanoi," he said, "and I think it is fair to say that people of the world understand that the American people have the hope of bringing this to a peaceful conclusion."

If Johnson has any new public peace moves in mind, he has given no sign of them so far. Officials say, however, that secret diplomatic efforts are continuing and will go on in the future.

That intention was indicated by Johnson in a message to Congress Wednesday asking for a supplemental appropriation of $12.75 billion to help finance the war in Viet Nam.

"We are currently engaged in a major effort to open a road to a peaceful settlement," he said. "But until there is a response — and until the aggression ends — we must do all that is necessary to support our allies and our own fighting forces in Viet Nam."

State Department officials said many channels to North Viet Nam are still open and will remain so regardless of developments in the war. But a spokesman told a news conference the North Vietnamese "have shown no interest" in Johnson's peace campaign.

Today in Washington

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed and sent to the House its first major bill of the new session.

It approved the so-called "wild rivers bill" Tuesday by a 71-1 count. Sen. Milward L. Simpson, R-Wyo., was the dissenter.

The measure would set aside land and ban construction of dams along parts of seven rivers. It also would set up a study to decide whether 17 other rivers should be brought into the program.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Antonio J. Taylor, a Santa Fe, N.M., crafts dealer and brother-in-law of President Johnson, is en route to Jordan on a government assignment.

A spokesman for the Agency for International Development said Taylor will spend three weeks in that country to determine what native craft products might be exported to the United States.

This is Taylor's second AID assignment. He spent four weeks in Latin America last year.

The AID spokesman said Taylor is being paid a standard $75-a-day consultant's fee. His transportation also is being paid for by the government.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service says much of the property it seized from the American Nazi party last year isn't worth selling.

IRS Commissioner Sheldon S. Cohen said, "Photographs, arm-bands, automobile stickers, periodicals and other articles identifiable as being associated with the Nazi movement...have value insufficient to justify the minimum price which would cover the cost of their sale."

He said the property will be returned to party leader George Lincoln Rockwell.

The goods were seized from the party headquarters in lieu of taxes.

Let Negro Enroll, School Told

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A federal judge has ruled that Negro high school students must be given an opportunity to enroll at desegregated DeWitt High School at mid-term this school year and again next fall.

Judge J. Smith Henley said Wednesday that the DeWitt School Board could no longer require Negroes in the top three grades to attend the all-Negro Immanuel High School.

Henley said the DeWitt plan to desegregate the 10th grade next fall and the 11th and 12th grades in 1967 would not meet requirements set by the U.S. 8th Circuit Court of Appeals in the El Dorado school case and by the U.S. Supreme Court in the Fort Smith school case.

El Dorado was ordered to desegregate the 11th and 12th grades at mid-term and Fort Smith was ordered to permit transfers to white schools for Negro students in the top three grades.

Henley said the present DeWitt plan of desegregation would not allow students in the 11th and 12th grades at Immanuel the opportunity of attending a desegregated school. He said 10th graders would not have such an opportunity until their senior year.

Forty-five students in the top three grades are now being transported from DeWitt to Immanuel, eight miles from DeWitt.

"Mid-term is now upon us and the board will be expected and required to facilitate expressions of preference by Negro high school students," Henley said. He said the board should honor informal expressions and grant requests for transfers made within a reasonable time after the second half of the current school year begins.

Casey Stengel to Get Award

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Casey Stengel will receive the Walter Judge Award for meritorious service to baseball at the Feb. 13 banquet of the San Francisco chapter of the Baseball Writers of America.

The chapter said Wednesday that the now retired 75-year-old Stengel would come here from Southern California to receive the award, named for a late San Francisco baseball writer.

World News

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Ambassador James Roosevelt says the United States is abandoning demands that the U.N. special fund refrain from spending U.S. dollars for aid projects in Cuba.

Roosevelt told a news conference that U.S. insistence on no dollar spending in Fidel Castro's Cuba was "dishonest" because it resulted in nothing more than a bookkeeping device. The United States puts up 40 per cent of the money in the special fund.

Roosevelt added, however, that the United States objects in principle to a proposal for the special fund to spend more than $2 million to expand facilities for training engineers and architects at the University of Havana.

He said Cuba's shortage of technicians was largely due to Castro's policies that had "caused the departure from the country of many well-qualified people."

VIETNAME, Laos (AP) — Two teen-age lovers who were told they could not marry committed suicide by exploding a grenade which also killed five other persons, an army spokesman reported today.

The explosion at the town's largest theatre also injured 21 persons.

The boy, a soldier, was 18. The girl was 14. His parents for bade their marrying and the boy exploded the grenade under their seats at the theater.

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — At least 23 persons, most of them children, were killed and 2,240 others were made homeless by a fire which razed about 100 shacks in downtown Seoul Tuesday night.

Police said the fire was caused by an overheated stove. Freezing temperatures hampered the work of 1,000 firemen who battled the blaze for two hours.

HONG KONG (AP) — Thousands of Hong Kong Chinese poured across the border into Communist China today to spend lunar New Year holidays with families and friends.

British authorities and the Chinese Communists provided extra train service to cope with the big crowd.

MOSCOW (AP) — Communist party First Secretary Leonid I. Brezhnev ended a five-day visit to Mongolia today after signing a military treaty that apparently identifies Communist China as the potential enemy.

Leaving Ulan Bator for Moscow, Brezhnev said the treaty "strengthens the defense of our countries."

Since Mongolia has borders only with China and the Soviet Union, this indicated defense against China. The Soviet Union has long trained and armed Mongolia's small army.

A farwell speech by Mongolian Premier Yumzhagin Tsedenbal, first secretary of the Mongolian Communist party, emphasized his government's complete adherence to Soviet views.

WIN AT BRIDGE

Light Takeout Aids Bidder

By JACOBY & SON

1965 Vanderbilt Cup Winners Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

One West player in the trials made a super-light takeout double with the West hand. Such doubles are decidedly not recommended and this one really exploded in West's face when Percy Sheardown and Bruce Elliot of Toronto reached three no-trump.

Three no-trump is not a very good contract. As a matter of fact, a heart opening and spade shift would set the hand three tricks but West's double had elicited a spade response from East and West opened his fourth best spade.

South let this ride to his queen. Then he knocked out the ace of clubs and proceeded to make his contract with four clubs, three diamonds and two spades.

At four tables North closed the bidding with a limit jump raise to three clubs. One South player made four clubs when West opened a spade. The others just made their contract.

The other four North players responded one no-trump. Three of them played there and went down one trick when East made his normal opening lead of the deuce of spades.

The top East-West score came when West reopened with two clubs after North's one no-trump was passed; to him. He was playing this as a delayed, light takeout double so East bid two spades.

North competed to three clubs, whereupon East continued to three spades. This was decidedly a doubtful contract but the trumps lay right for East and he was able to make the necessary nine tricks by dint of careful play.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

Her Friends Expect Too Much

Dear Helen: I would like to give a party, but I'm not that rich. When I mention having just a plain old party, my friends say, "You know OUR friends won't come to just a plain old party."

My friends either have slumber parties (with dinner and breakfast) and my parents are against this, or else they have boy-girl parties and spend a lot on bowling, skating, miniature golf, or something.

It's got so if you just ask kids in to eat dessert and play records, dance and talk, you're a goon. What can I do? — Help

Dear Helen: Give a "goon" party. . . and prove how wrong more.

The next thing I knew, I was about our ages. Our folks all but disowned us, let his bleach-head girl friend read it. Anyway, he wrote me a letter telling me not to write any more. I feel trapped. I want to go back, more miles about him, and to school and be a girl again, both of them have been giving but I'd feel terrible leaving Ed me a bad time, especially the as he still loves me, though probably not much, the way he acts. Helen, is it my fault for writing the note, or his fault for digging in the garbage can after it? — Sandra

Dear Sandra: Nobody's fault, really. But maybe this will teach you not to write what you don't want others' (especially bleach-ed blondes) to read—or if you MUST write, you'll burn less if you burn the evidence. — H.

Too Late To Backtrack Because you lied about your age, you can perhaps get an annulment. — If the time limit has been 15, a year ago, my friend not run out. At 16, you were under 18, and I went of the shore with my state's legal marriage family. We met two very special boys. Two nights before we had to go home, Ed asked me to marry him, and when we told Niles and Barbara, they decided to run away with us. We lied to our parents. — H.

Dominican Spawns a Third Force

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ
SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) -- The unstable Dominican political situation has spawned a "third force" of conservatives certain to enter the June presidential elections.

At the moment, this force is still an indefinite regrouping of the conservative parties that opposed and lost to the Dominican Revolutionary party in the 1962 elections.

This is the consensus among political observers here who are also convinced the so-called "third force" candidate will hurt the candidacy of ex-President Joaquin Balaguer of the Reformist party, and proportionately help the Revolutionary party standard-bearer, expected to be Juan Bosch.

The question is in what measure this new element will affect the June voting. Discussing this recently, Dr. Balaguer said: "They won't get 5 per cent of the vote. They have no following."

The presidential race alignments had been expected to be confined to the two foremost conservatives and Bosch for the left-wing moderates and far left.

Balaguer, however, is said to have alienated conservatives recently by wooing liberals regarded as committed to Bosch. That annoyed and frightened the right wing. It already had been suspicious of Balaguer since his last days as president when he ordered sharp price reductions in consumer goods and cut interest rates on loans from 8 to 4 per cent.

Balaguer is trying to build a political structure out of too many materials, some of them incompatible with each other, one political leader said recently. "His policies are too vague." The bulk of the "third force" is made up largely of conservatives who banded together to oust Balaguer from power on Jan. 19, 1962. Up to recently, they had been mostly passive, and in some cases agreeable, to the ex-president's candidacy -- they considered it the lesser of two evils.

The United States, which once produced 60 per cent of the world's cotton, now produces only about 39 per cent. Continued acreage control and price support, established during the depression, have been a factor in a shift in world production. These price supports have encouraged other countries to produce more cotton and compete in the world cotton market.

Ladd-Faison Deal Called Off by Foss

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Commissioner Tom Foss is calling the disputed trade involving San Diego's Ernie Ladd and Ladd Faison, took the fourth and final step in a get-together policy that figures to give the American Football League a more sophisticated image.

Using his sweeping power, Foss completed a series of moves Wednesday that firmly established his iron rule and likely put an end to the controversial statements that have been made to the press by various AFL personnel in recent weeks.

As a matter of fact, when the phone rang in press headquarters following Foss' latest announcement an official taking the call jokingly answered: "AFL press headquarters. No comment."

"While it may have been a joke in press headquarters, it certainly was no joke to K. S. (Bud) Adams Jr., the Houston owner who always seems to have a Texas-sized announcement for the press.

Foss took the first step toward establishing the new image concept when he firmly denied his rumored removal. Then he withheld approval of the controversial trade. He then called Boston linebacker Nick Buoniconti on the carpet for statements he said were detrimental to the league and, finally, Foss turned thumbs down on the Ladd-Faison deal.

Foss, in announcing the decision to void the trade, after personally investigating the various allegations, said he "concluded that statements of owner K. S. Adams published prior to the trade constitute tampering with players Ladd and Faison under the provisions of our constitution."

"The evidence is conclusive the players knew of the published statements of Mr. Adams and one of them, Ernie Ladd, was quoted as saying: 'If a man (Adams) is willing to give up four players, he must be willing to give up a lot of money.'"

"The obvious effect of Mr. Adams' statement was, therefore, interference with the ability of San Diego to sign these players."

Foss statement said there was no evidence the players were contacted by Houston and emphasized that the statements by Adams were enough to constitute tampering.

Foss also took San Diego Coach and General Manager Sid Gillman to task for his comments, saying it was Gillman's "duty to file a protest of tampering. But he compounded the wrong by trading the players to the offending club and then announcing he had no bargaining position."

"I am instructing him (Gillman) to confine all future comments involving league matters to official communications to the commissioner."

Russell Not After Job Coaching

BOSTON (AP) — Boston's big Bill Russell insists he isn't interested in coaching, but he does a pretty good job every time he's forced to fill in for boss Red Auerbach.

Russell was drafted as coach again after Auerbach was ejected Wednesday night and led the Celtics to a 129-88 romp over the Baltimore Bullets in a National Basketball Association doubleheader. Philadelphia rolled over Detroit 110-93 in the opener.

Boston's sixth straight victory over Baltimore enabled the Celtics to hike their slim lead over the Cincinnati Reds to nine points. A showdown for the Eastern Division lead is set for Boston Garden Friday night.

Auerbach drew two technical fouls and was ejected for arguing a call at 5:15 of the opening period. Then Russell, a 100,000-a-year veteran often mentioned as Auerbach's successor, took command.

Williams Going Into Hall of Fame

BOSTON (AP) — Slugging great Ted Williams was expected to be named to baseball's Hall of Fame today in his first year of eligibility.

Williams, longtime star of the Boston Red Sox appeared to be the top choice in the balloting by the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

Results of the balloting apparently were to be announced at a morning news conference called by the Red Sox.

By Hurwitz, BBWAA secretary-treasurer, declined to comment on reports that he intended to announce Hall of Fame election results. The Red Sox also refused to state the reason for the conference.

Golfing Pros, Amateurs Open Crosby Match

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — A bulky field of 137 pros, each with an amateur partner, opened fire today in the silver anniversary edition of Bing Crosby's golf tournament, an event started for fun which now will reward the low scorers with $104,500.

Jack Nicklaus, the leading money winner of 1965 with $140,752.14 in official money, makes his 1966 debut here. His final practice rounds were disappointing as he shot only a 74 over the Monterey Peninsula Country Club course on Wednesday.

He toured the layout with Arnold Palmer and lost to him by four in the warm-up over the course with a par 71.

Palmer snapped out of his slump to win the Los Angeles Open two weeks ago and could also snap the slump which has left the Crosby one of the major titles to elude him.

Still, if there can be a favorite here, it should be Billy Casper, holder of the tournament record for 72 holes with a 277 in 1958 and also winner in 1963 with a 285.

Casper is fresh off a victory last Sunday in the San Diego Open when he shot a closing seven-under-par 64 in cold, windy weather, reminiscent of many days in past Crosby tournaments.

Nicklaus won the 1961 United States amateur title at Pebble Beach, placed second to Casper in Crosby's 1963 event and tied for third last year when Bruce Crampton of Australia became the only foreigner ever to win the Crosby when he posted a 284.

Most of the big names, including Palmer, Nicklaus and Casper, toured the Cypress Point course today. On Friday, they'll play Monterey Peninsula Country Club and then come to Pebble Beach for the national telecast on Saturday.

The leading 50 pro-am teams and the pros still in the money play the final 18 at Pebble Beach on Sunday.

Roof Caves in on the Rangers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
First Toronto's Frank Mahovlich fell on New York goaltender Cesare Maniago and then the roof caved in on the Rangers.

After a second-period collision knocked Maniago out of the only National Hockey League game played Wednesday night, the Maple Leafs strafed substitute goalie Don Simmons for four third-period goals in a 6-2 romp over the Rangers.

The Leafs were leading 2-1 with 8:27 gone in the second period when Mahovlich, racing after a loose puck 10 feet in front of the New York net, banged into Maniago, who had come out to clear the rubber.

Mahovlich, who scored one of the third-period goals against Simmons, explained the collision this way.

"He (Maniago) came out to clear the puck, and I fell on him trying to reach it. Then one of their guys fell on me. It didn't seem to be a hard collision."

It was hard enough to end Maniago to a Toronto hospital for X rays of his shoulder and ribs. Simmons played scoreless hockey for the rest of the second period but Toronto broke it open with a trio of goals inside of 3 1/2 minutes midway through the third period.

Individuals Not Doing Too Well

NEW YORK (AP) — The individuals aren't doing as well but college basketball teams are scoring better than ever.

That was the puzzle presented by official statistics released today by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau.

The figures show only two players—Purdue's Dave Schellhase and Syracuse's Dave Bing—averaging more than 30 points per game. Schellhase, who finished fourth last season, leads with 32.6 and Bing is averaging 30.1. This is the first week in three years that so few players are over the 30-point plateau.

But team statistics present a different picture. Three clubs are averaging better than 97 points per game with Loyola of Chicago tops at 100.6 and Brigham Young (97.7) and Syracuse (97.1) dueling for the runner-up spot. Among full season figures, only Miami, Fla., with 98.4 last season, averaged more than the trio at the top right now.

Arkansas S. Ranks No. 10 in Cage Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The North Dakota Sioux, with an Indian sign on teams visiting their Grand Forks gymnasium, have climbed to within four points of leading Southern Illinois in The Associated Press small-college basketball poll.

The Sioux play Parsons of Iowa tonight, seeking their 22nd consecutive home-court triumph. They scored victories at home over South Dakota and Morningside last week, lifting their record to 14-2.

Southern Illinois drew three first-place votes and 92 points while North Dakota, which was fourth a week ago, advanced to second with four first-place votes and 88 points in the latest vote by 15 regional experts.

The poll was based on games through last Saturday. Evansville moved up to third. The Aces, fifth last week, whipped St. Joseph's of Indiana 103-90 for a 9-4 mark. Grambling slipped two notches to fourth after losing to Arkansas AM&N, 107-103 in overtime. The Tigers also beat Jackson State and Wiley and have a 14-2 record.

The Top Ten, with won-lost records through games of Jan. 15, and total points:

1. Southern Ill. 8-3	92
2. North Dakota 14-2	88
3. Evansville 9-4	74
4. Grambling 14-2	72
5. Youngstown 10-1	55
6. Akron 9-1	49
7. Cent. State, Ohio 10-2	47
8. (tie) Northern Mich. 5-2	40
9. Cheyney State 15-0	30
10. Arkansas State 10-3	29

Northern Lights Always Awesome

By GEORGE BOWEN
BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — The aurora borealis, or northern lights, nature's awesome fireworks in the skies, always has intrigued man. He hopes to find out what sets them off during this age of rockets.

Scientists at Johns Hopkins University have assembled their fourth and most inquisitive load of instruments for probing the electrical display over Canada.

The seven-foot nose cone section of geodetic was sent today to the Goddard Space Center at Greenbelt, Md., for a final check. An Aerobee rocket is scheduled to boost it 100 miles high over Fort Churchill Feb. 15 or within the next 30 days.

"The aurora borealis is one of the most striking and most studied phenomenon, yet the least we know about," said William C. Fastie of the Johns Hopkins physics department. "I think that with rocket work we are going to solve it."

He described the endeavor to measure and analyze what causes the sky sparklers "a small part in the long-range goal" of finding out all there is to know about the magnetic field surrounding the earth and the effects on it of electrons.

The theory is that the northern lights are caused by a stream of high energy electrons from the sun striking the earth's magnetic field, "but the process isn't exactly known," said Fastie.

The instruments will send back information "on the distribution and energy of electrons — there are fast and slow — and how they create the aurora," he said.

"In the aurora, you can look at conditions way beyond laboratory capabilities."

At times the resulting magnetic storms from the aurora play havoc with radio and telegraph communications. The lights also appear almost simultaneously in the southern atmosphere where they are known as aurora australis.

Arkansas Hall of Fame to Take in Four

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Hall of Fame expands its membership to 34 tonight with the induction of four persons, including the second woman to be so honored.

Quinnie Hamm, who scored more than 100 points three times during her career with the Sparkman High School Sparklers, will be presented by the only female member of the Hall of Fame—Hazel Walker.

Johnny Sain, ex-major league baseball pitching star for the Boston Braves and New York Yankees, former all-pro football end Ken Kavanaugh and former University of Arkansas football and basketball coach Francis Schmidt will also be inducted at the seventh annual awards banquet.

Miss Hamm, now Mrs. John L. Toler of Shreveport, La., helped the Sparklers gain national attention in AAU basketball tournaments during her career there from 1927-30.

Sain and Warren Spahn were the aces of the Boston Braves pitching staff and led the team to the National League pennant in 1948. Sain now is pitching coach for the Minnesota Twins, the 1965 American League champions.

Spain, the grand old southpaw of the National League, will present Sain at tonight's fete.

Kavanaugh, a native of Little Rock, was a great college end at Louisiana State and later went on to all-National Football League honors as an offensive end with the Chicago Bears.

He now coaches offensive ends for the New York Giants. Bernie Moore, commissioner of the Southeastern Conference and Kavanagh's coach at LSU, will present the ex-football star.

Ivan Grove, a former football ace for Schmidt, will accept the award for the ex-Razorback coach who died in 1944. Joe Garagiola, a former major league catcher and now a well-known sportscaster and toastmaster, will present Schmidt.

Schmidt posted a 42-17-3 football record at Arkansas and won four Southwest Conference basketball titles with the Porkers. His 1927-28 basketball team posted a 20-0 record.

The French Move to Weaken the Market

By CARL HARTMAN
LUXEMBOURG (AP) — In another move to weaken the Common Market's Executive Commission, the French are expected to press today for immediate inclusion of the West European coal-steel and atomic pools in the six-nation Economic Community.

The six member nations have already agreed to merge each pool's executive body with the market's Executive Commission, but the move has not yet been fully ratified.

The French were expected to ask that this be done as soon as possible. They were expected to press for a limit to the powers of the new joint body and to use considerable political leverage on the composition of its 14 members. The Executive Commission now has nine members.

One French target is the ouster of Walter Hallstein of West Germany, the Executive Commission's chairman, whom French President Charles de Gaulle dislikes because he has, in De Gaulle's view, assumed too much power as head of the market's management body.

"De Gaulle just doesn't like seeing Hallstein standing there on a red carpet, wearing a cutaway and striped pants, receiving new ambassadors. He thinks Hallstein is pretending to be the emperor of Europe," said one French official.

The French sought to curb the Executive Commission's powers in a 10-point memorandum Monday after ending a six-month boycott of the community's meetings.

The memorandum, presented by Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville, sought to limit the commission's dealings with nonmember countries, its public relations and its budget.

Couve de Murville also demanded that each of the six members keep the right to veto major decisions, a provision which had been due to lapse Jan. 1.

The market's other members are West Germany, Italy, the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg.

Foreign Minister Joseph Luns of the Netherlands predicted that the French request would be rejected. He said that if all points were accepted, much of the supranational character of the Common Market would be lost.

HOUSTON (AP) — Goatees are out in the American Football League.

The AFL, at its meetings Monday, officially ruled that all players must be clean shaven with the exception of moustaches.

The ruling means Ernie Ladd will have to take a razor to his goatee.

But Joe Namath, who recently cut off a moustache he had been growing, can start again if he wants to.

THE PALMER METHOD—It looks like modern dance, but it's really Arnold Palmer applying a little body English on the green.

Bears Rated Comeback Team of Year

By BEN OLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Chicago Bears, who rallied from three straight losses at the season's start to win nine of their next 10 games in the hotly competitive National Football League, made the outstanding comeback in sports in 1965.

Seventy-six of the 298 sports writers and sportscasters participating in The Associated Press Comeback-of-the-Year poll listed the Bears as their No. 1 choice.

On a basis of three points for a first-place vote, two or second and one for third, the Bears collected 420 points. Vernon Law, Pittsburgh's right-handed pitcher, was second with 73 first-place votes and 348 points.

The Los Angeles Dodgers, baseball's World Series winners, were third with 336 points, followed by Frank Howard, Washington's slugging outfielder, 135 points.

The Redskins, led by Gayle Sayers, their brilliant rookie halfback, and quarterback Rudy Bukich, finished third in the NFL's Western Conference with a 9-5 record last season. They lost to San Francisco, Los Angeles and Green Bay in their first three games, then won nine of their next 10 before bowing to the Minnesota Vikings in their season finale.

Dog Camp for Science Discovered

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — A junkyard where state police and United States Humane Society officials found 103 dogs destined for sale to research centers was described today as "a Dachau concentration camp for dogs."

"There were two dogs crammed into a small chicken coop and they couldn't walk when we freed them," said Frank J. McMahon, director of field services for the society, who led state police on the raid Wednesday.

Lester J. Brown was arrested and charged with 29 counts of cruelty to animals. He was freed in $1,500 bail.

"We found a dog frozen to death in a box," said State Police Capt. Thomas S. Smith. "We tried to pull him out, but he was chained in the box."

McMahon said his Washington, D.C., office has been investigating Brown's operation "for the last five years."

He said Brown was a dealer in dogs, selling them to various institutions for research.

About 28 dogs were removed by the society, but the raid was too late for one of the animals, which had just died. The others were very emaciated, said McMahon.

Capt. Smith said today the remaining dogs had to be left at the junkyard.

"There's nothing under the law we could do to remove them, because they were not sick," he said.

Police said McMahon said the dogs had been poorly fed on chopped and frozen cattle entrails, and there was inadequate water.

McMahon said the raid was part of a nationwide crackdown on dog dealers. He said dealing in dogs was a $50-million annual business.

St. Johns May Be Headed for an NIT Bid

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer
The St. John's University Redmen of New York appear certain to be invited to defend their NIT championship in college basketball when tournament time arrives in March.

The Redmen, improving with each start, whipped the third-ranked St. Joseph's Hawks of Philadelphia 82-72 Wednesday night. They now have won four in a row for an over-all 10-3 mark.

Bradley, seventh-ranked in The Associated Press poll, also was a casualty in Wednesday night's action. Playing on the road, the Braves absorbed an 85-69 thumping from the Cincinnati Bearcats.

In other games, Louisville whacked Dayton 94-77, Detroit defeated Villanova 101-94 and Los Angeles Loyola handed Notre Dame its 10th straight defeat 96-86.

A sellout 6,128 at Alumni Hall on the St. John's campus saw the Redmen, behind 34-32 at halftime, pull away in the second half to win decisively.

"They just beat us in all departments," said Jack Ramsay, coach of St. Joseph's.

It was St. John's 13th straight victory on their home court and St. Joseph's third defeat of the season, all suffered on the road. The Hawks have won 12.

A 13-point burst after Mike Rolfe's tipin put them ahead at 19-18 sewed up Cincinnati's romp over Bradley. Don Rolfe's 21 points and John Howard's 20 points on the heels of first-place Tulsa in the Missouri Valley Conference.

A hometown turnout of 11,264 cheered as Louisville whacked Dayton behind 24 points by Fred Holden and 23 by Joe Leitke. Don May, Dayton soph, pitched in 33 points for a losing cause.

The Redskins of Miami of Ohio tightened their hold on first place in the Mid-American Conference by whipping Western Michigan 89-70 at Oxford, Ohio. In other home-court triumphs Harvard defeated Dartmouth 74-70 in an Ivy League tussle and Georgia Tech whipped Georgia 89-66.

Cornell, Tennessee Tech, MIT and Southern Illinois won on the road. Cornell whalloped Colgate 98-83, Tech clouted Chattanooga 90-68, MIT downed New Hampshire 83-66 and Southern Illinois, No. 1 in the AP small-college poll, whipped Evansville, the defending national NCAA small-colleg echamps, 79-65.

Golf's Elite Warms Up for Crosby Meet

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Pro golf's elite warmed up for their assault on three tough courses in the $104,500 Bing Crosby Golf Tournament today and hoped the weatherman is wrong.

For his five-day forecast said showers are possible over the weekend when the golfers wind up the 72-hole tournament which opens on Thursday.

Under the crooner's National Pro-Amateur format, each pro plays with an amateur partner with prizes for the individual low pros and the pro-am team.

When Australia's Bruce Crampton won last year with a 284 to become the first foreign champion in the Crosby, the pro-am title was shared by the teams of George Bayer-Morgan Barofsky and George Archer-Elson Cullenward with 1-1 bet ball totals of 260.

Barofsky and Cullenward hail from the San Francisco Bay area.

The amateurs are picked from the world of entertainment, business, professions and other sports. They include such figures as Dean Martin, Phil Harris, James Garner, Tom Harmon, Paul Hornung, Sandy Koufax, Leonard Firestone, Charlie (Peanuts) Schulz Alvin Dark and Duffy Daugherty.

Early arrivals including Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer, Billy Casper and Tony Lama shot practice rounds in brilliant sunshine on Tuesday.

Most will try to check each of the three courses in play. Pebble Beach, Monterey Peninsula Country Club and Cypress Point. Each course presents differing problems and each is rugged.

The field numbers 137 pros and 137 amateurs. The quest for places this year was so tough that only 11 spots were open to pros from the qualifying round. All others had qualified automatically under various PGA formulas.

An $11,000 purse awaits the winner among the individual pros after Sunday's final round and the pro on the winning pro-amateur team collects $4,000. It isn't impossible for one golfer to haul down both big prizes.

Viet Nam's Forgotten Man

... The Adviser Still Advises

By TOM TIEDE

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

DIEN BAN, Viet Nam—(NEA)—Capt. Moe Winter is the forgotten man of this weary war. He is an Army adviser.

It used to be that his kind was the whole story. But that was when only 700 U.S. troops camped here.

Now the happenings and the heroics of Winter and his colleagues have been swallowed by a carnivorous combat census—170,000 soldiers in the country at present, 300,000 expected by mid-1968, and perhaps 500,000 if the need continues to rise.

The mass of men in arms has pushed Moe Winter out of the publicity picture. But not, indeed, out of the action.

There are more than 5,000 Moe Winters currently acting as field advisers to the South Vietnamese—each still facing the same dangers and discouragements that come from trying to win both the peace and the people.

They still live among the Viet Cong.

They still are the least-protected Americans in the war.

And they still carry an enemy price tag on their persons.

Says Las Vegas-born Winter: "If the VC kill a South Vietnamese soldier it is one thing, but if they pick off an American it is something else. It's both a personal and propaganda victory for their side."

"How many times have you been shot at?" he has been asked.

"I quit counting the first week," he shrugs.

"Doesn't it affect you?"

"It did at first."

"In what way?"

"I couldn't sleep."

"And now?"

"Now I take pills at night so I'm only scared during the day."

The captain has adequate reasons for fear. The VC are his neighbors . . . and this rice-rich district by the sea incorporates two dozen villages, over 100 hamlets (groups of houses) and as many as 150,000 people, enemy or otherwise.

"My area is probably 85 per cent VC-controlled," Winter estimates.

"That much?"

"Possibly more. Almost every village has an enemy force of nine or 10 people."

"You know about them?"

"In many cases we even know their names."

"How?"

"The friendly villagers tell us."

"Are you making progress against them?"

"A little."

"In what way?"

"Brother, in this area every friendly villager is progress."

True enough. Smiles are a barometer of human sentiment and, in all but a few hamlets here, Winter is met with stone faces that would freeze time.

His jittery job, of course, is to put a fire under the chill: institute medical care, establish schools, build houses, provide security and improve on the general welfare of the public.

In short, be physician, educator, engineer, policeman and politician for 150,000 questionable neighbors, any one of whom may be plotting his immediate death.

Civic action they call it here.

"It's a slow go," Winter admits. "We have all the disadvantages of fighting a war on the other man's terms. We're in his element and, in fact, at his mercy in many cases. It's weird. We can't see him, but we know he's there."

Indeed he is. In the jungle, in the shops. Watching. Waiting. A faceless adversary who may be on one side during the day and the other at night. A man, a woman, a child with a single purpose: to kill.

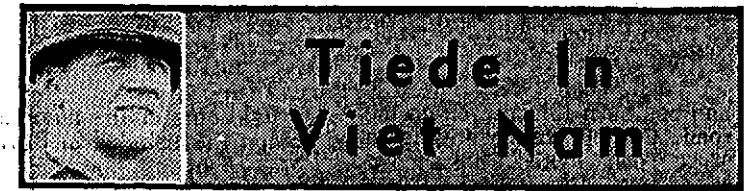

Moe Winter lives with this, a forgotten man.

Only the enemy remembers he's here.

Aluminum Now Worries About Auto

By BILL SIMMONS

Associated Press Writer

Steel companies used to worry about the automotive industry and what it planned, but aluminum companies nowadays are keeping an ear attuned to business in Detroit.

In each of the past 16 years the use of aluminum in automobiles has increased.

Last year, the automotive industry put 376,250 tons of aluminum in the record production of 8,842,650 cars, an increase of 951,043 cars and 50,000 tons of aluminum from 1964.

The prospects are for a 17th straight year of increased aluminum usage in automobiles.

Auto makers have announced their production schedules, and, if they are met, the aluminum industry foresees an increase of 10,000 tons in the use of aluminum in automobiles.

A spokesman for Reynolds Metals Co. says the increase will amount to about two pounds per car, and will be used for a wide variety of automobile parts.

Ben Pope of Reynolds' St. Louis publicity department recently compiled a breakdown on aluminum used in the Ford Galaxie 500, which comprises about half of all Ford Motor Co. production.

The Galaxie included 5.75 more pounds of aluminum in 1965 than in 1964. The metal went into decorative items such as the wheelhouse moldings, rocker panels, rear quarter panel moldings and rear deck trim.

The trim items accounted for most of the increase in the Galaxie in 1965, but the model has a total of about 80 pounds of lightweight metal in it.

Increased affluence on the part of the consumer is getting back to aluminum companies through the automotive industry, too.

Air conditioners, power accessories and other options on automobiles sometimes add as many as 40 pounds of aluminum to a car, Pope says.

J. Donald Shircliff, vice president of Reynolds' Aluminum Sales Co., noted the emergence of new items—anti-smog pumps, cam shaft covers, and other items—as possible sources of future increases in aluminum usage by auto makers in years ahead.

Church Teen Clubs: Haven For Youths at Loose Ends

BY RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON (NEA) More and more suburban churches around the country are organizing Teen Clubs in their Fellowship halls, not for church youth but for neighborhood teens who have no place to go.

Mission churches in the slum areas of large cities have done this for a long time. So have other churches. A new drive is on now to meet the problems of the better neighborhoods in fast-growing suburbs where uncounted thousands of teen boys and girls fiddle around outside drugstores at night. Some parents don't know. Some don't care.

These "good neighborhood" clubs have raised opposition within the churches that sponsor them, especially from older members. But they continue to grow.

TYPICAL IS THE STORY of one such Teen Club started in Fairfax County near Washington at the Mount Vernon Methodist Church in co-operation with men and women and young people from two Lutheran, two Presbyterian and one other Methodist church in the area.

The combined membership of a Friday night Intermediate Club for 12- and 13-year-olds and a High School Teen Club for 14- to 18-year-olds is around 300.

What then are the effects in this typical club in five months?

A boy with long hair cuts it and begins to wear a tie. The volunteer band that comes to play reorganizes, throws out a boy who continually gets into trouble at the Teen Club. Says one band player: "We're not going to let one guy spoil things for the rest of us."

A young man who was formerly a member of a gang that fought with chains is now seriously considering going into full-time Christian service. He has tried attending church and Sunday School, says the most inspiring thing he's met up with is the Teen Club.

A 15-year-old girl found smoking in the ladies' room (not allowed at this club) says she's lonely. A boy she admires volunteers to make certain she meets people.

A LONELY BOY until recently always carried a sheath knife on his hip. He began hanging around a church but didn't quite feel at home. When the Teen Club started, he volunteered to help. He took off his knife, came dressed immaculately and began enforcing the club's strict rules with quiet dignity. The Teen Club band played a special piece for him the night he left for South Viet Nam. It was the closest anyone remembers that he ever came to crying.

One woman counselor is sitting in the club's "coffee house." Three lonesome girls come up to her, just to sit and talk. Before the evening is over, they're telling her their troubles. They want her advice.

WHAT DO THESE CLUBS OFFER that results in these changes? A volunteer local youth band (a drummer and some guitarists) comes and plays free. There are chess, checkers, table tennis, shuffleboard, dominoes and other games and a coffee shop where young people can buy doughnuts, cokes, orange drink—and talk. Someone among the group sings. Some dance the jerk. But most of the teens just come, gather chairs in small circles and sit and talk with each other.

Young people from the neighborhood churches are in charge. The rules are tough (no smoking, no drinking, no shorts, no slacks, no ungentlemanly language or behavior). Adult counselors and a pastor are in the background. There is no program. Yet the young people come in increasing numbers. They say: "We had no place to go."

That's what there is to it. Yet these young people change.

Fear No Storm Debatable State of The Union

Farm chores run into work, of course, but they have their amusing moments. As my neighbors know I have on the fenced-in "back 40" behind my house a dozen mallard ducks, two Canadian honkers, and two domestic white geese — and my chore is to feed 'em every day.

It was snowing late yesterday afternoon when I went through the gate with the pail of kernel corn and chops, and, just like dogs, ducks and geese are extra hungry when the weather is cold and blowy.

The mallards got under foot while I was pouring grain into the trough. One fat hen came within arm's reach and I gave in to temptation and picked her up a few inches off the ground. She never once squawked. Nor did she quit shoveling away at the grain — she just stretched out her neck a little farther to reach the trough.

President Johnson delivered his State of the Union message last week. There seems to be a difference of opinion as to just what that state is.

Mr. Johnson thinks it's O.K. Republicans think otherwise. They point to a government that for nearly a generation — since the end of World War II, in fact — has been spending more than it collects in taxes; and they criticize Mr. Johnson personally for asking simultaneously for more money to fight a war in Viet Nam and to expand the federal give-away program on the home front.

This writer has been a registered Democrat all his life, but it's many a year since we voted the Democratic ticket nationally — and nothing Mr. Johnson says or does is likely to change our mind.

He is first and last a politician. True, he has taken a courageous stand in Viet Nam, but there he has little choice — our country has either to stay and fight, or get out ignominiously and surrender Australia and the Western Pacific to the Communist horde of Mongols. But he is still a politician when he proclaims an emergency overseas but insists on spending money for "business as usual" at home — peddling bait for votes when his government has been in the red for 21 years.

It's just the latest proof that our line over the newspaper's name-plate is as true now as the day I wrote it:

The tragedy of Man — he starts off with a country and winds up with a Government!

LBJ Launches Fight, Renews an Old One

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson renews an old battle and launches a new one today as he asks Congress to abolish the Electoral College and extend the length of House terms from two to four years.

In a presidential message due to be sent to the House and Senate at noon EST, he was to spell out the kind of constitutional amendments he wants, but which he faces difficulty in getting.

Johnson asked last year for an amendment to eliminate the Electoral College — although retaining the present system of allocating electoral votes. But a busy Congress kept putting it off. Now he's asking again.

The President's aim is to insure that all of the electoral votes of a state go to the presidential candidate who gets the most votes in the state's general election. To achieve it he would extend the practice — in effect for 178 years — of having presidential electors cast the electoral votes.

He is proposing instead that the state's electoral votes — equal to the number of representatives and senators they have — go automatically to the winner of the state's popular vote.

The proposal for extending the present two-year House terms to four years, which was widely applauded by House members when Johnson mentioned it in his State of the Union message last week, has been arousing many second thoughts among members.

Self-admitted Has Been at Age of 8, Actress Makes a Fine Comeback at Age 35

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Polly Bergen leads many lives.

A self-admitted "has been" at the age of 8, at 35 she is one of the top all-round performers in show business, and is active in so many other fields she keeps as busy as a one-armed juggler.

"To me life means exhalation," the husky-voiced, blue-eyed singer said between shows here.

"It seems to me I've spent most of my life taking a deep breath before trying to do something I've never done before. When I exhale afterward, I can take off my shoes and relax. Everything then is all right. Nobody threw a tomato at me."

In addition to her night club chores, Polly at present also—

1. Operates three dress shops in Tennessee.
2. Runs her own music publishing firm.
3. Handles her own oil field and real estate investments.
4. Designs carpets for her brother-in-law, a rug manufacturer.
5. Works for several civic and humanitarian projects.
6. Has started a mail order firm to market a cosmetic skin product for men called "Polly Bergen's Whipped Pink Oil of the Turtle."

What makes Polly run so hard? Perhaps because she was constantly on the move as a child—always starting over in a new place. As the daughter of a construction engineer, she lived in 27 states and attended 45 grammar and high schools.

"At the age of 3 and 4 I was always a dead-catch $2 prize winner in amateur contests," she said. "But at 8, I had become a has-been."

"Then at 14, I got my own radio show at $6 a week. I got $15 for my first television appearance—and a case of tomato soup."

"I also worked for $19 a week as a drugstore clerk, $20 a week as a carhop, $22 a week as a short order cook. I used to spend hours arguing people out of ordering pancakes. I could not turn them."

Polly held other jobs briefly as a cocktail waitress, a fur coat model, a n. usher, and a door-to-door salve peddler.

"I did all this while going to school. I was very independent. I really enjoyed it."

Polly then became a band singer, quickly rose to stardom on the supper club circuit—Las Vegas was glad to pay her $7,500 a week — and in films, the theater, television and the recording field.

What kind of a gal is Miss Bergen? She says:

"I have no goals except to be myself and do what I can do. I've finally decided that's the only real success. The most destructive force in my life was the advice I got in childhood: 'If you can't do it well, don't do it at all.'"

"It makes you try to be a perfectionist when there is no such thing as perfection."

"You spend all your life getting 4 A's and one B—and hating yourself for getting that B."

Griffin Asks Re-election as Sheriff

The Star has been authorized to announce the candidacy of Jimmie Griffin for sheriff and collector of Hempstead. He issued the following statement:

To The Citizens of Hempstead County:

I take this means of announcing my candidacy for re-election to the office of Sheriff and Collector of Hempstead County.

It has been an honor and privilege to serve the people of Hempstead County in this capacity. If I am re-elected I will continue to conduct the affairs of this office so that the best interests of all the people can be realized.

I am grateful for the wonderful support I have received from you in the past and I will appreciate the opportunity to again serve you as your Sheriff and Collector. Your vote and support in my behalf is earnestly solicited.

Nashville to Desegregate in the Fall

NASHVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Circuit Judge Bobby Steel said Wednesday that the Nashville School Board has agreed to desegregate the district this fall.

Steel, a member of the board, said the first, second, 11th and 12th grades would be desegregated this fall plus freedom of choice for other students and desegregation would be complete by the fall of 1968.

A suit has been filed in federal District Court at Fort Smith asking that the Howard County dual system be ended. Tax revenues from white owners go to the all-white Nashville district and tax revenues from Negroes go to the all-Negro Childress district. Both districts have the same border.

District Judge John E. Miller of Fort Smith received the suit and Nashville has until Feb. 15 to answer it.

The suit says the dual arrangement is unconstitutional and results in higher expenditures per pupil in the Nashville district.

McNamara in Plea for Money to Finance War

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara faces Senate questioning today on President Johnson's request for $12.761 billion to help pay for the Viet Nam war.

McNamara's appearance at a closed joint session of the Senate Armed Services Committee and the Defense Appropriations subcommittee is the first by a top official involved in the current peace offensive.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., chairman of both the committee and subcommittee, planned only two days of hearings. But there were ample signs that Congress intends to take its time in examining every aspect of the Viet Nam problem and related defense issues before its expected approval of the fund request, probably in March.

Two senators served notice Wednesday night that the President's request will be fully debated when it reaches the Senate floor.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., said he felt there should be "no limitation on debate," and Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., assured him there would not be.

Clark said he did not know how he will vote, "but the proposal should be fully debated."

"It will be fully debated," Morse declared. He strongly opposes U.S. policies on Viet Nam.

In other developments: —Secretary of State Dean Rusk and roving Ambassador W. Averell Harriman returned to Washington Wednesday night to report to President Johnson on their meetings with various world leaders. Their arrival sets the stage for top-level conferences to map future military and diplomatic strategy on Viet Nam.

Rusk and Harriman said other nations understand clearly now that the United States wants peace in Southeast Asia. Various governments "volunteered to do what they could in their own way with Moscow, Hanoi and Peking to achieve a peaceful solution," Harriman said, adding: "The decision is now up to Hanoi."

—Authoritative sources reported it might be as long as six months before the Philippines sends any troops to Viet Nam. When a Philippine detachment is sent, it is likely to be a non-combat engineering battalion — about 2,000 men. Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey discussed the possibility of Philippine help for the U.S. effort in Viet Nam during recent talks with the new Philippines president, Ferdinand E. Marcos.

—Academic experts in a number of fields will participate in a conference here on Viet Nam Friday and Saturday. The conference was initiated by Rep. Benjamin S. Rosenthal, D-N.Y., to give Congress the benefit of hearing from "independent sources of knowledge and expertise."

—President Johnson presented the presidential unit citation for extraordinary gallantry to the Air Force's 38th Air Rescue Squadron for life-saving helicopter operations in Viet Nam. Four squadron members represented the unit at the White House ceremonies Wednesday.

3 Killed in Collision at Murfreesboro

MURFREESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Two children were among three persons killed Wednesday in the collision of a pickup truck and tractor-trailer rig in a curve on U. S. 70 about 14 miles north of Murfreesboro.

The victims were identified as Mrs. Myrtle Bell, 46, of Daisy, and Michael Wayne Jones, 2, and Gary Jones, 4.

Mrs. Louise Jones, 24, also of Daisy, and her daughter, Amanda, 5, were listed in serious condition at a Hot Springs hospital, said Sheriff Charles Holder of Pike County. The Jones boys were sons of Mrs. Jones.

Holder said the driver of the tractor-trailer rig was Beryl Cowart, 31, of near Glenwood. He escaped serious injury.

Major Railroad Strike Shaping for Next Week

By NEIL GILBRIDE
WASHINGTON (AP) — A second union raised the spectre today of a major railroad strike crisis — this one developing next week with the possibility of eventually halting most of the nation's trains.

"They've mistreated our people to such an extent... that anything could happen," said Charles Luna, president of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

Chief railroad negotiator J. E. Wolfe said his attorneys would be ready to draw up court injunction papers if the trainmen threaten a strike.

Court action could delay any strike for months.

Luna's comment came the day after H. E. Gilbert, president of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen warned that a new national railroad strike crisis loomed unless the railroads bargain on the union's terms.

Both disputes involve the federal arbitration ruling under which the jobs of 17,500 firemen trainmen were eliminated.

Both unions demand that most of the jobs be restored.

In the case of the trainmen, the special two-year federal arbitration law expires Jan. 25 and in the case of the firemen, March 31.

Gilbert specifically said, and Luna implied, that they believe the unions will be legally free to strike on those dates.

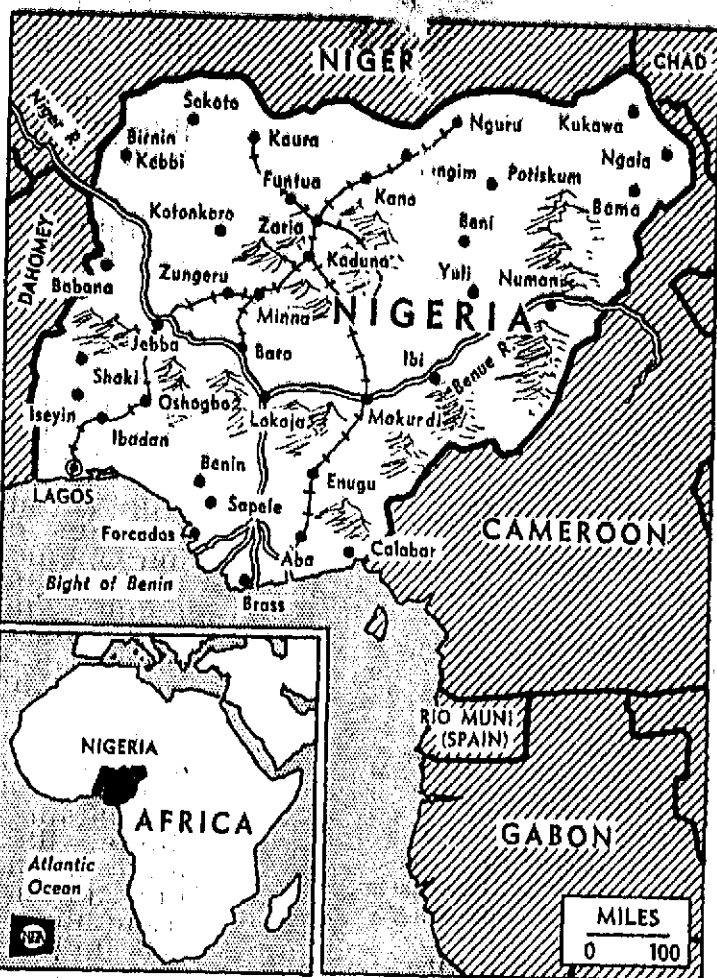

"In my opinion, supported by all the lawyers with whom I have talked, the (arbitration) award continues until something takes its place," he said.

Government officials, in whose lap the dispute will eventually land, said federal lawyers weren't sure whether the railroads or the unions were right.

A strike by the trainmen would involve some 85 railroads in the West and the Southeast. Luna said satisfactory agreements had been reached with some 35 Eastern railroads.

A strike by the firemen would involve about 170 railroads.

Railroad spokesmen contend they have the right to continue eliminating jobs — at least 7,000 more firemen and many thousands of brakemen — even after the arbitration ruling expires. Luna's union represents the brakemen.

Icy Roads as Snow Hits State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The last of a weak snow storm crossed the Mississippi River on an eastward course today, leaving icy roads but less snow than anticipated in Arkansas.

The state braced Wednesday for snow accumulations of two to four inches as the storm edged toward central Arkansas from the southwestern corner of the state.

But a spokesman for the U.S. Weather Bureau said accumulation was light.

Clearing skies are predicted by the bureau for Friday, but cold temperatures are expected to remain.

Overnight lows were in the 20s across the state, with the lowest reading of 23 recorded at Harrison and Calico Rock.

Wednesday's high temperatures were in the 30s with 38 recorded at Arkadelphia and Camden.

Friday's high temperatures are expected to be in the mid to high 30s.

Tonight's lows are forecast to be in the teens and lower 20s.

Conway Seeking $2 Million Grant

CONWAY, Ark. (AP)—Mayor Walter Dunaway said Wednesday that Conway would seek a $2 million federal grant to match local funds for a sewer and water improvement project.

Dunaway said the city may have to raise $1 million for the project, probably by issuing sewer and water revenue bonds.

FCC Approves KARK Transfer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The transfer of control of Arkansas Radio & Equipment Co. to the Mullins Broadcasting Co. has been approved by the Federal Communications Commission.

The FCC announced Wednesday approval of the transfer for $3.7 million.

The company is the licensee of stations KARK AM-FM-TV in Little Rock.

Mandeline, Clark and T. K. Barton control the Arkansas Radio & Equipment Co. and Mullins currently operates stations KBTR KBTU-TV in Denver.

The FCC decision was 5-2.

Loan Approved to Arkansas State

WASHINGTON (AP) — The office of Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., announced Wednesday approval of a $493,000 loan for Arkansas State College at Jonesboro.

The loan, approved by the U. S. Health, Education and Welfare Department, will be used to build a fine arts building.

McClellan for Cultural Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., has voted for a bill to authorize $9.5 million for an Inter-American cultural and trade center near Miami, Fla.

Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., voted against the measure which passed the Senate Wednesday by a 46-18 vote.

Small Flurry But Truce Has Brought Lull

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A truce settled over war-plagued Viet Nam today amid the jubilation and solemnity of the lunar New Year holiday. Only a few scattered incidents marred the temporary peace.

A flurry of Viet Cong attacks erupted about midnight, when the four-day cease-fire proclaimed by the Communists was supposed to start. But a South Vietnamese military spokesman said his government had decided the Viet Cong truce did not begin until 1 a.m.

The United States continued air action in the morning hours before the start of the Allie's 78-hour cease-fire at 11 p.m. EST Wednesday. American jets and Guam-based B52s hit Viet Cong tunnels, bunkers and fortified positions in Tay Ninh Province, 68 miles northwest of Saigon.

On the ground, the Viet Cong exploded a mine after sunrise in the Trung Lap area, 20 miles north of Saigon, wounding four U.S. infantrymen moving up a road. About the same time, the Viet Cong scored seven hits on an unarmed U.S. helicopter bringing food and water to infantrymen near Trung Lap, narrowly missing the pilot.

U.S. military spokesman said the incidents showed that not all the guerrillas may be under tight control.

While Vietnamese of all political persuasion joined the national celebration, it was a tense holiday for Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's seven-month-old government. It was reported to have arrested a number of junior army officers for allegedly plotting its overthrow and to be keeping two generals under surveillance.

A spokesman for the 35-year-old premier declined to confirm or deny the reports but insisted there had been no move to topple the government. When Ky, commander of the air force, and his "Young Turks" took power last July, they displaced many old generals still chafing to return to the seat of power.

Rumors of a coup swept Saigon last weekend during the visit of U. S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Ambassador W. Averell Harriman when Ky moved to military brass was in the premier's residence. Most of the city at a armed forces congress. Any sudden troops movements in this capital usually stir speculation that some faction may be attempting a power grab.

Snow, Sleet Is Order Over South

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Snow, sleet and freezing rain hit broad areas from eastern Colorado to the nation's midsection and into parts of the South today.

Severe cold continued to grip areas in the North Central region and northern Montana, with temperatures dropping to more than 20 below zero in some cities.

Fairly heavy snow piled up along much of the eastern slopes of the Rockies. Six inches covered the ground at Lamar, Colo. The snow belt also extended across southern Montana, the Dakotas, Minnesota, Nebraska, Kansas, northern Texas, Arkansas, central Mississippi and northern Louisiana.

Up to five inches of snow fell in southern and southwestern parts of Oklahoma in the first general snowstorm of the season. Two deaths were attributed to traffic accidents on icy roads.

Hazardous - driving warnings were issued by the Weather Bureau in sections from New Mexico eastward across parts of the southern Plains and the lower Mississippi Valley.

Snow and sleet mixed with sleet and freezing drizzle was reported from the Texas Panhandle to Arkansas.

One inch of snow fell in Shreveport, La., and sleet pelled Meridian and Jackson, Miss., and spread into northern Georgia.

Snow up to eight inches fell Wednesday in western Texas, forcing some schools to close and slowing highway and air travel.

Quality Stainless Passes All Tests

The place of stainless steel cutlery appears secure in the American home. Yet, even those buying their second or third set may not shop as cautiously as they should.

Harold Johnson, an executive with one of the larger makers of sterling silver and stainless steel home utensils, reminisces about the days of house-to-house selling of sterling as he brings us up-to-date on stainless.

Alleen He points out good sterling and stainless still are sold in the home but consumers are more aware of what the price should be today. Often this takes them to their favorite jeweler or department store to save money and take advantage of store specials. (You still pay a premium for the personalized service of door-to-door selling.)

As in other fields, improvements in refinishing techniques and engineered patterns that cut down on man-hours helps hold the price down for stainless steel utensils.

This does not mean the consumer must accept shoddy, awkward or unattractive merchandise, he says.

The nickel content, he explained, is higher in better stainless steel. Poor quality or cheap stainless has a definite "greasy spoon" feel that can't be disguised.

Tests similar to those used to select better quality sterling silver knives, forks and spoons apply to stainless steel, Johnson says.

"If I were buying a set of good stainless, I would look for an appealing pattern compatible with my wife's dishes, buy a product from a company that stands behind its merchandise and look at pieces for balance and strength," he explains.

For example, Johnson picked up a fork from the restaurant table (it was a competitor's and sterling) to show the points of stress. The handles shouldn't bend, he explained. With a spoon, he pointed out the smooth edges and well-finished bowl that a piece of good stainless should have, too. Another tipoff of a better quality set is the finishing of fork tines. All the surfaces should be smooth.

Margarine and Calories

by Gaynor Maddox, Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—If I use "whipped" margarine, won't I get fewer calories per pound?

A—No, you won't. "The promotion of so-called 'whipped' margarines may have caused some confusion," explains Dr. Philip White in the January issue of Today's Health. "The caloric value of a pound of 'whipped' margarine is the same as a pound of regular margarine. The manufacturing process for the former produces a larger volume per pound so that each serving, determined by size but not by weight, will contain fewer calories." Dr. White, who is secretary of the AMA Foods and Nutrition Council, adds.

Q—My husband is overweight but he insists on eating butter instead of margarine. Says he grew up eating butter and intends to go on eating it. But he should reduce and butter, I've been warned, has more calories than margarine.

A—Good for your husband! He is a man who knows what he likes and sticks to it. As for the calories in butter and margarine, for all practical purposes, they are the same, or about 100 calories in a tablespoon. So don't try to get him to eat margarine if he doesn't like it. Just hint very subtly that if he needs to lose weight, he might like to cut down a little on butter.

As our grandmothers might have said, "As easy as falling off a log."

BOSTON LEMON MERINGUE CREAM PIE
(Makes 1 9-inch cake)
1 package white cake mix
1/2 cup cranberry-orange relish
1 package (4 ounces) lemon pie filling mix
2 eggs, separated
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 cup flaked coconut
Prepare white cake mix according to directions on package. Fold in cranberry-orange relish. Pour mixture into 2 greased and floured 9-inch layer cake pans. Bake as directed on package. Unmold and cool layers on a rack. Prepare lemon pie filling with egg yolks as directed on package. Cool. Beat egg whites until stiff. Gradually beat in sugar, 1 tablespoon at a time, until egg whites are stiff and glossy.

Place one cake layer on cookie sheet; spread with meringue and sprinkle with coconut; place in moderate oven (350 degrees) for 12 to 15 minutes, or until meringue is lightly browned and coconut is golden brown. Spread cooled lemon filling on second layer. Place meringue-topped over lemon filling-topped layer. Cut into wedges to serve.

crumbled (1/4 cup firmly packed or 3/4 cup crumbled)
1 8-ounce package cream cheese
1/4 cup chopped pecans
1/4 cup chopped pitted black olives
Heavy cream
1 cup ground smoked ham
1/4 cup crushed pineapple
1/4 cup chopped celery
Mayonnaise

Follow pie crust package directions; then roll out pastry on lightly floured board and cut into four 8-inch rounds. Place on ungreased cookie sheets and prick well with fork. Bake in a preheated (425-degree) oven 10-12 minutes or until golden. Let cool. In the meantime, combine Roquefort, cream cheese, pecans and olives with enough mayonnaise so that consistency is spreadable. Use each filling for spreading on two rounds. Stack rounds starting with Roquefort filling and ending with Roquefort filling. Decorate with black olive halves. Serve with assorted relishes.

Country Spareribs

by Gaynor Maddox
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Everyone welcomes a change in menus, whether at home or in a restaurant. That's where these country style spareribs come in. How long since you served spareribs? Isn't it time you did for a change?

COUNTRY STYLE RIBS (Serves 4)

1 (3-pound) side of spareribs
1 cup ketchup
1/4 cup cider vinegar
2 tablespoons dark corn syrup
1 envelope golden onion soup mix
1 clove garlic, minced
1/4 teaspoon chili powder
Dash pepper
1 1/4 cups hot water

Set meat in one piece into shallow baking pan or broiler pan without rack. Roast in 450-degree (very hot) oven 30 minutes. Reset oven temperature control at 350 degrees (moderate). Continue cooking ribs 30 minutes longer. Meanwhile, combine ketchup, vinegar, corn syrup, soup mix, garlic, chili powder and pepper in quart jar. Add hot water; cover and shake well.

Remove meat from oven and drain off fat. Pour sauce over ribs. Bake, basting occasionally, until ribs are tender and browned and sauce is thickened, about 35 minutes. (Do not let sauce become too brown.)

Two Co-operative Party Specials

by Gaynor Maddox
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Little dinners for four, six or even eight are popular among young marrieds. They are pleasant, relatively inexpensive and the preparation is shared.

Here's one co-operative menu: Main dish, sweet and sour meatballs with noodles or rice (total preparation and cooking time is about 35 minutes).

Here's another: Ham and spinach divan.

SWEET AND SOUR MEATBALLS (Serves 4)

1 pound ground beef
1/4 cup milk
3 tablespoons fine, dry bread crumbs
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
3 tablespoons ketchup
1 egg, slightly beaten
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons chopped onion
1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed beef broth
2 tablespoons wine vinegar
1 teaspoon brown sugar

HAM AND SPINACH DIVAN is easy to make.

Combine beef, milk, crumbs, parsley, 3 tablespoons ketchup and egg. Season with salt and pepper. Shape into 24 meatballs. In skillet, brown meatballs in butter. Push meatballs to one side. Add green pepper and onion, cook until tender. Pour off drippings. Add remaining ingredients. Cover; simmer 20 minutes. Thicken gravy as desired, using a smooth paste made by blending 1/4-cup water with 2 to 4 tablespoons flour. Serve over noodles or rice.

Equipment Care Aids the Sewer

by Mary Brooks Picken
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The results of your sewing endeavors depend to a good extent on the condition of your sewing equipment.

If your machine is old and stiff, take the head out of the cabinet and soak it overnight in white gasoline. Take all the precautions necessary in handling of gasoline. Outdoors would be the best place or in a properly ventilated area.

With a small brush, brush out the bobbin bed, the feed plate. Then wipe all parts clean.

Oil with a first quality oil. You need a lightweight oil. Oil every hole you see. Fold an old washcloth four times, put it under the presser foot. Let the machine stand all night. Then wipe away all surplus oil. Mend or hem dish cloths or bath towels until you are sure the thread is clean as it comes from the needle.

Check your needle and stitch length. Be sure both are right for your fabric.

Have an accurate tape measure, a yardstick, good shears — sharp pointed scissors, pins with sharp points, some tailor's chalk, some crayon paper and a pointless tracing wheel for marking dots, gathering spaces, etc.

Now you are ready to work with your smart pattern and instructions which you have read very carefully. Adjust the pattern if necessary to conform with your measurements. This is important in length and width. Allow generous seams, if in the least doubtful of size.

Press all creases from your fabric before you lay it out

Dresses Are Young for Springtime

by Helen Hennessy
Women's Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
NEW YORK — (NEA) — Hemlines swing at the knees and waistlines roam everywhere in the New York Couture dress collections for spring '66.

The newest silhouettes are the smock dress and the low-waisted, two-piece dress with short, full, flirty skirt and long sleeves.

Another new note was struck with the introduction of the underwear neckline—deep, almost U-shaped with medium-width shoulder straps.

There are lots of godets and swinging pleats. Hemlines really move this season.

Everything is soft and pretty. There are ruffled collars and cuffs and floral prints straight out of the '30s.

Navy and white are again color favorites along with camel and beige tones.

But pastels are important on the scene, too. Jade green, pink, pale blue and pastel paisley turn up in most collections. Even plaids are muted in many instances.

There's a dress silhouette for everyone this spring and waistlines often turn up in unexpected places. Coat-dress (left) in black and white slubbed silk linen in a winduppane check has high notched collar and asymmetrical closing. Shape is straight as a wand. Navy silk crepe (center) has soft turtle neck, lowered waistline and shirred skirt. These are by Hannah Troy. Marie McCarthy for Larry Aldrich designs a natural look in the navy French jersey jumper (right) with white touches.

Use Open Cans Quickly

by Gaynor Maddox, Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—When I don't use all the contents of a can of food, I store the rest in the refrigerator. Is that safe?

A—Yes, food may be left in tin cans after opening. But put a cover on the can and store in refrigerator. Use the canned food, however, within two or three days after opening.

Q—My doctor put me on a low-sodium diet. Someone told me I should cut out celery because it contains sodium. Is that really true?

A—Although most raw vegetables are quite low in sodium, beet greens, kale and celery do have a fair amount of it. So, when you do your low-calorie nibbling, switch to radishes, green pepper and cauliflower.

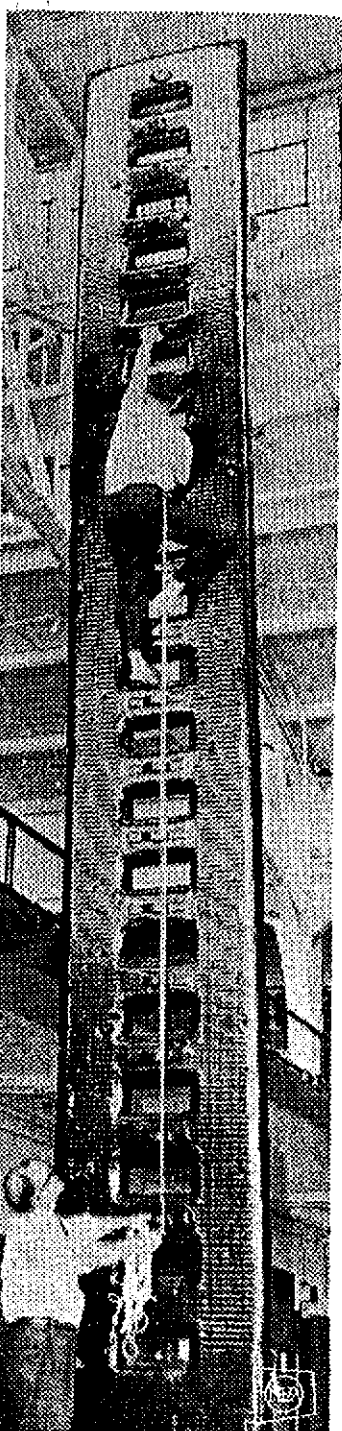

German Kaisers
William I of Prussia took the title of kaiser in 1871, when he became emperor of a united Germany; the last German kaiser was William II, who went into exile in 1918.

Blue Hole
The water level and the temperature never change in the famous Blue Hole near Castalia, Ohio. Fish cannot live in its waters, yet they thrive a few feet away in a stream that is fed by it. There is no oxygen in the Blue Hole itself.

Fashion Tips

Jeans for Resort Wear
New for resort wear are western-type jeans cut from such fabrics as cotton pique and calico. They wash as well as the traditional denim dungarees.

New Look in Rain Wear
Madras plaid on cotton cloth, finished with a vinyl coating to give it a "wet look" is slated for volume use this coming spring in raincoats and rain suits.

INFLATABLE LADDER—Another innovation resulting from demands of the space age is an inflatable fabric ladder, developed by Goodyear with a special coating provided by Du Pont, to enable inspection of the interior of the Saturn V rocket's fuel tank. As shown in Du Pont Magazine, the fully inflated ladder extends 26 feet and can support a 200-pound man.

New Now Are Old Classic

The settled, dignified look of this library end of a living room reflects the news in home furnishings this winter. Classic English design has been incorporated into bookcases, modified wing chair and flatted desk. The massive desk chair is a literal translation of James II chair with its turnings and serpentine stretchers. Architectural details on bookcase are intended to give interest to the modern room which lacks them.

"Classic" is the tipoff word for the look in new home furnishings which we will be seeing in retail stores later this winter.

Previewed by store buyers and the press at southern markets in October and at Chicago's International Home Furnishings show in January, designers and manufacturers, with some notable exceptions, have turned to the 16th-19th centuries for motifs, details and even actual reproductions. The newest major collections embrace English styles and this includes reproductions of early American adaptations of English cabinetmaking.

If this trend is less than earth-shaking, may be that's what the intention is. There is a comfortable, stable look to the new collections—sometimes a sort of reassurance that you have seen this somewhere before. And, in fact, maybe you have. I saw a flatted desk that looked terribly familiar until I realized it was very similar to the "library" table we had in my childhood home—also an adaptation of English Jacobean.

More major storage pieces will bring two needed features to many modern homes and apartments: Architectural interest in the usually stark room and an extension of limited storage facilities found in most abodes. Tall, narrow bookcases designed to be used individually or grouped combine open-shelf and cabinet storage. They incorporate classic Tudor arches, trefoil details and the classic diamond-scratch detail. Interiors may be painted in a terra cotta, bronze, curry or gold or nailhead trims on upholstery. Jacobean turned legs and serpentine stretchers, triangular pediments and broad carved aprons, pilasters and moldings are some of the elements that add up to "classic."

Strong-grained oak is making a comeback in this revival of classic early English. Mahogany, of course, pecan, pickled pine, cherry appear in traditional furniture of later periods.

teen months ago Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., suffered a broken back in a plane crash. One never would have known it Sunday.

Kennedy, an accomplished skier before the accident, returned to the sport without apparent strain. He flawlessly maneuvered down the slopes at the Blue Hills ski area.

And in Gstaad, Switzerland, Mrs. John F. Kennedy and her daughter, Caroline, enjoyed a Sunday afternoon of undisturbed skiing. Unlike Saturday, Mrs. Kennedy was not bothered by anyone and no one seemed to recognize her. But she was on a different mountain.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — British critics of President Johnson's mode of dress just "dislike seeing a man dressed like a man," says movie stylist Sy Devore. "Tailor and Cutter, the bible of the British tailoring industry, had said that the President as a style setter 'added up to a fat, round nothing.'"

Scale of many upholstery they may be in the warm, tawny finish used for other pieces in this extensive collection.

High-rising, massive armchairs for the storage of clothes are hitting the best-seller list and appearing in living rooms, hallways as well as bedrooms. Paneled doors or doors livened with linen-fold carvings and handsome hardware ornament these.

Ionic capitals (sometimes used as pedestal table base). pieces is to the large side. The formal 18th century Hepplewhite or Sheraton sofa, for example, may be longer than its historical counterpart to answer modern demand. Big, roomy armchairs, with big ottomans, invite the lounge. Wing chairs in many variations put the reader at ease by fireside or by a lamp table which just might be a reproduction (another one) of the early candlestick table. Upholstery fabrics are lush—crushed velvet, rich prints, leather and black vinyls.

Twin Births In the United States, Canada and Great Britain about one of every 83.4 births is a twin birth. Frequencies throughout the rest of the world vary from about one in 70 to one in 145 births, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

"The President dresses the way a robust, vigorous outdoors man should dress," Devore said Sunday. "These so-called (British) stylists have been trying to introduce styles which would make all men look like their sisters."

Devore, who outfits many Hollywood male stars, also makes shirts for President Johnson.

Pumpkin Pie

DOWN EAST PUMPKIN PIE is a Maine treat.

by Gaynor Maddox
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

This is the open season for pumpkin pie. Every section of the country has its own variation of this all-American favorite.

Recently a reader in Augusta, Maine, sent us her favorite version, which combines apple butter with pumpkin and spices. We tested it and it was good. As you probably know, Maine women are famous for their baking. Here's more proof.

DOWN EAST PUMPKIN PIE (Serves 6 to 8)

2 eggs
1/2 cup apple butter

1 1/2 cups canned pumpkin
1/2 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon pumpkin pie spice
1 tall can evaporated milk (1 1/2 cups)
9-inch unbaked pastry shell
In medium-sized mixing bowl beat eggs slightly. Stir in apple butter, pumpkin, brown sugar, salt, spice and evaporated milk, blending well. Pour into pastry shell. Bake in preheated hot oven (425 degrees) 15 minutes, then reduce temperature to moderate (350 degrees) and continue baking until filling is set, about 45 minutes longer.
